To parents of children in Years 3-8

Dear Parents

As you may know, the maths department at St Hugh's use the computer based program Mathletics. Mathletics is piece of software that gives pupils the opportunity to work on their maths skills either at home or at school. Each pupil has their own username, password and therefore a profile that they can build up by earning points. The standard of work is appropriate for their age and as they move into a new year group so the work will advance.

Mathletics is used purely as an addition to the schemes of work that we follow throughout the school. It is by no means our only source of material, although it is sometimes used at the end of topics to supplement what has been taught and also occasionally for homework. As the pupils find Mathletics enjoyable they often want to use it independently. I, of course, fully support this and it would be great if parents could also encourage their son/daughter to use Mathletics at home.

Yours sincerely

R Clarke
