28th January 2010

To All Parents & Staff

Confused by Computers?

Fascinated by Facebook?

Worried by the web?

Mystified by mobiles?

You may recall that due to the snow, we had to postpone a talk by Ian Yorston scheduled for 13th January titled 'Parenting in a Digital Age'. We have now managed to reschedule this for 7.30pm on Wednesday, 10th February and the talk will take place in the Barn. Ian Yorston is Head of Digital Strategy at Radley and was previously Head of Science, Head of Physics and Head of Careers there. Before teaching he enjoyed a career in the RAF as an Electronic Warfare Officer. He lectures all over the world on the subject of ICT and Change Management.

Ian will be giving parents advice and guidance on how to manage our children's access to and use of the internet, mobile phones etc, illustrating the opportunities and pointing out the threats. He will explain what is new in the world of ICT which may be unfamiliar to us but which is already part of our children's lives, and he will hopefully answer any questions you may have on any subject relating to ICT in the home. Please do come along to what I know will be a fascinating, illuminating and entertaining talk. Drinks will be served from 7pm and the talk will begin at 7.30pm. The evening will end at about 8.30pm.

If you would like to come, please would you kindly inform Mrs Nobes in the Front Hall?

With kind regards

Andrew Nott
